Employee Code of Conduct template

An employee of SBPIDSr is responsible to behave appropriately at work. The institution can't cover every single case of conduct, but the institution shall trust the employee to always use their best judgement. The employee may reach out to the undersigned if there are any issues or queries.

DRESS CODE

PRINCIPAL

S.B. Patil Institute for

Dental Science & Research

NAUBAD, BIDAR-585402

(Karnataka)

Our institution's official dress code is FORMAL DRESSING [Business/ Business Casual]
However, an employee's position may also conform how they should dress. If the employees frequently meet patients or colleagues, they may use a more formal dress code. The institution expects the employee to be clean while coming to work and to avoid wearing clothes that are unprofessional (e.g. workout clothes, T-Shirts, Knee-length/Jeans/Shorts/ Chappals).

CYBER SECURITY AND DIGITAL DEVICES

This section deals with all things digital, including guidelines for using computers, phones, our internet connection and social media to ensure security and protect the assets of the institution.

INTERNET USAGE

The institution's internet connection is primarily for institutional purpose only; but, the employees may occasionally use the connection for personal purposes as long as they don't interfere with their job responsibilities.

The employee must not use our internet connection to:

- Download or upload obscene, offensive or illegal material.
- Send confidential information to anyone.
- Invade another person's privacy and gain access to sensitive information.
- Download or upload pirated movies, music, material or software.
- Visit potentially dangerous websites that can compromise the institution's network and computers' safety.
- Perform unauthorized or illegal actions, like hacking, fraud or buying/selling illegal goods.

CELL PHONE:

Use of cell phones at work is permissible. However, the employee's devices should not distract them from their work or disrupt the workplace. The employee is asked to follow a few simple rules:

- The cell phone may be used in a manner that benefits their work (business calls, productivity apps, calendars.)
- To keep personal calls brief and use an empty meeting room or common area so as not to disturb colleagues/patients.
- To avoid playing games on the phone or texting excessively.
- Not to use phone for any reason while driving.
- Not to use phone to record confidential information.
- Not to download or upload inappropriate, illegal or obscene material using internet connection of the institution.

Also, the employees must not use their phones in areas where cell phone use is explicitly prohibited (e.g. laboratories.)

INSTITUTIONAL EMAIL

Email is essential for work. The employees should use their institutional email primarily for work; however the employee is allowed to use institutional email for few personal reasons.

- Work-related use. The employees may use their emails for work-related purposes without limitations. For example, they can sign up for newsletters and online services that will help them in their job or professional growth.
- Personal use. The employees may use institutional email for personal reasons as long as they keep it safe, and avoid spamming and disclosing confidential information. For example, they can send emails to friends and family, and download e-books, guides and other safe content for their personal use.

Our general expectations:

K. S. K. K. K.
PRINCIPAL

No matter how the employees use their email, they are expected to avoid:

- Signing up for illegal, unreliable, disreputable or suspect websites and services.
- Sending unauthorized marketing content or emails.
- Registering for a competitor's services, unless authorized.
- Sending insulting or discriminatory messages and content.
- Spamming other people's emails, including their coworkers.

In general, it is recommended to use strong passwords and to be vigilant in catching emails that carry malware or phishing attempts. If the employees are not sure that an email they receive is safe, they may ask the security specialists of the institution.

SOCIAL MEDIA

The employees may be provided practical advice to prevent careless use of social media at workplace. Uses of two types of social media have been addressed: (i) using personal social media at work and (ii) representing our institution through social media.

Using personal social media at work

The employees are permitted to access their personal accounts at work. However, the employees are expected to act responsibly, in accordance with the policies of the institution and ensure that they stay productive. Specifically, the employees have been asked to:

- Discipline themselves. To avoid getting sidetracked by their social platforms.
- Ensure others know that their personal account or statements don't represent our company. For example, please use a disclaimer such as "opinions are my own."
- Avoid sharing intellectual property (e.g trademarks) or confidential information. To ask the undersigned first before the employee shares company news that's not officially announced.

- To avoid any defamatory, offensive or derogatory content. The employees may violate our institutional anti-harassment policy if they direct such content towards colleagues, clients or partners.

Representing the institution through social media:

If the employees handle social media accounts or speak on behalf of the institution, they are expected to protect the institutional image and reputation. Specifically, they should:

- Be respectful, polite and patient.
- Avoid speaking on matters outside their field of expertise when possible.
- Follow confidentiality and data protection policies and observe laws governing copyrights, trademarks, plagiarism and fair use.
- Coordinate with the undersigned when they are about to share any major-impact content.
- Avoid deleting or ignoring comments for no reason.
- Correct or remove any misleading or false content as quickly as possible.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

When the employees are experiencing a conflict of interest, their personal goals are no longer aligned with their responsibilities towards us.

In other cases, the employees may be faced with an ethical issue. For example, accepting a bribe may benefit them financially, but it is illegal and against code of ethics of the institution. If such behavior has been noticed, the employees may lose their job and may face legal implications.

For this reason, conflicts of interest pose a serious issue for everyone. The employees are expected to be vigilant to spot circumstances that create conflicts of interest, either to themselves or for their direct reports. The employees are expected to follow institutional policies and always act in the best interests of the Institution. The employees have been directed not to let personal or financial interests get in the way of their job. If the employees are experiencing an ethical dilemma, they may speak to the undersigned and may be resolved.

EMPLOYEE RELATIONSHIPS

It is desirable to ensure that relationships between employees are appropriate and harmonious.

The employees are expected to always behave in professional manner.

FRATERNIZATION

Fraternization refers to dating or being friends with the colleagues. In this policy, "dating" equals consensual romantic relationships and sexual relations. Non-consensual relationships constitute sexual violence and the institution prohibit them explicitly.

Dating with colleagues

If an employee starts dating with a colleague, the employee is expected to maintain professionalism and keep personal discussions outside workplace.

The employees are also obliged to respect their colleagues who date with each other. The institution will not tolerate sexual jokes, malicious gossip and improper comments. If any employee witnesses this kind of behavior, it may be reported to the undersigned at the earliest.

Dating with managers

To avoid accusations of favoritism, abuse of authority and sexual harassment, faculty must not date with their direct reports. This restriction extends to every faculty above an employee.

Friendships at work

Employees who work together may naturally form friendships either in or outside of the workplace. This relationship is encouraged between peers, as it can help them to communicate and collaborate. However, the employees are expected to focus on their work and keep personal disputes outside the workplace.

EMPLOYMENT OF RELATIVES

Everyone in the institution should be hired, recognized or promoted owing to their skills, character and work ethic. The phenomena of nepotism, favoritism or conflicts of interest are not encouraged. Thus, few restrictions have been placed on hiring employees' relatives.

In the institution, a "relative" is someone who is related by blood or marriage within the third degree to an employee. This includes: parents, grandparents, in-laws, spouses or domestic partners, children, grandchildren, siblings, uncles, aunts, nieces, nephews, step-parents, step-children and adopted children.

The employees, may refer their relatives to work with the institution. Here are the only restrictions:

- [The employee must not be involved in a supervisory/reporting relationship with a relative.]
- [The employee cannot be transferred, promoted or hired inside a reporting relationship with a relative.]
- [The employees cannot be part of a hiring committee, when their relatives are interviewed for that position.]

If employee becomes related to a manager or direct report after they both become employed by the institution, one may have to be transferred.

WORKPLACE VISITORS

When the employees have office visitors, they also have responsibilities. The employees should:

- Always attend their visitors (especially when they are underaged.)
- Keep their visitors away from areas where there are dangerous machines, chemicals, confidential records or sensitive equipment.
- Prevent their visitors from proselytizing their colleagues, gathering donations or requesting participation in activities in the premises.

Anyone who delivers orders, mail or packages for employees should remain at our building's reception or gate. If the employees are expecting a delivery, [front office employees/ security guards] the employees will be notified so that they may collect it.

SOLICITATION AND DISTRIBUTION

Solicitation is any form of requesting money, support or participation for products, groups, organizations or causes which are unrelated to our institution (e.g. religious proselytism, asking for petition signatures). Distribution means disseminating literature or material for commercial or political purposes.

The institution does not allow solicitation and distribution by non-employees at workplace. The employees may solicit from their colleagues only when they want to:

- Ask colleagues to help organize events for another employee (e.g. adoption/birth of a child, promotion, retiring).
- Seek support for a cause, charity or fundraising event sponsored, funded, organized or authorized by the institution.
- Invite colleagues to employee activities for an authorized non-business purpose (e.g. recreation, volunteering).
- Ask colleagues to participate in employment-related activities or groups protected by law (e.g. trade unions.)

In all such cases, the employees are asked not to disturb or distract colleagues from their work.

5. ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

As a premier institution for advanced scientific research and education, the institution values academic integrity and is committed to fostering an intellectual and ethical environment based on the principles of academic integrity. Academic integrity encompasses honesty, responsibility and awareness relating to ethical standards for the conduct of research and scholarship. The institution believes that in all academic work, the ideas and contributions of others must be appropriately acknowledged. Academic integrity is essential for the success of the institution and its research missions, and hence, violation of academic integrity constitutes a serious offence.

Scope and Purpose

- A. This policy on academic integrity, which forms an integral part of the Code, applies to all students at the institution. Students are required to adhere to the said policy. The purpose of the policy is twofold:
- i) To clarify the principles of academic integrity and
 - ii) To provide examples of dishonest conduct and violations of academic integrity
- B. Failure to uphold these principles of academic integrity threatens both the reputation of the institution and the value of the degrees awarded to its students. Every member of the community therefore bears a responsibility for ensuring that the highest standards of academic integrity are upheld.
- C. The principles of academic integrity require that every student
- i) properly acknowledges and cites use of the ideas, results, material or words of others.
 - ii) properly acknowledges all contributors to a given piece of work.
 - iii) makes sure that all work submitted as his or her own in a course or other academic activity is produced without the aid of impermissible materials or impermissible collaboration.
 - iv) obtains all data or results by ethical means and reports them accurately without suppressing any results inconsistent with his or her interpretation or conclusions.
 - v) treats all other students in an ethical manner, respecting their integrity and right to pursue their educational goals without interference. This requires that a

PRINCIPAL
S.B. Patil Institute for
Dental Science & Research
NAUBAD, BIDAR-585402
(Karnataka)

student neither facilitates academic dishonesty by others nor obstructs their academic progress.

D. Violations of this policy include, but are not limited to plagiarism, cheating and conflict of interest.

(i) Plagiarism means the use of material, ideas, figures, code or data as one's own, without appropriately acknowledging the original source. This may involve submission of material, verbatim or paraphrased, that is authored by another person or published earlier by oneself.

Examples of plagiarism include:

- a) Reproducing, in whole or part, text/sentences from a report, book, thesis, publication or the internet.
- b) Reproducing one's own previously published data, illustrations, figures, images, or someone else's data, etc.
- c) Taking material from class-notes or incorporating material from the internet graphs, drawings, photographs, diagrams, tables, spreadsheets, computer programs, or other non-textual material from other sources into one's class reports, presentations, manuscripts, research papers or thesis without proper attribution.
- d) Self-plagiarism which constitutes copying verbatim from one's own earlier published work in a journal or conference proceedings without appropriate citations.
- e) Submitting a purchased or downloaded term paper or other materials to satisfy a course requirement.
- f) Paraphrasing or changing an author's words or style without citation.

(ii) Cheating

Cheating includes, but is not limited to:

- (a) Copying during examinations, and copying of homework assignments, term papers, theses or manuscripts.
- (b) Allowing or facilitating copying, or writing a report or taking examination for someone else.

PRINCIPAL
S.B. Patil Institute for
Dental Science & Research,
NAUBAD, BIDAR-585402
(Karnataka)

- (c) Using unauthorized material, copying, collaborating when not authorized, and purchasing or borrowing papers or material from various sources.
 - (d) Fabricating (making up) or falsifying (manipulating) data and reporting them in thesis and publications.
 - (e) Creating sources, or citations that do not exist
 - (f) Altering previously evaluated and re-submitting the work for re-evaluation
 - (g) Signing another student's name on an assignment, report, research paper, thesis or attendance sheet
- (iii) Conflict of Interest: A clash of personal or private interests with professional activities can lead to a potential conflict of interest, in diverse activities such as teaching, research, publication, working on committees, research funding and consultancy. It is necessary to protect actual professional independence, objectivity and commitment, and also to avoid an appearance of any impropriety arising from conflicts of interest.

Conflict of interest is not restricted to personal financial gain; it extends to a large gamut of professional academic activities including peer reviewing, serving on various committees, which may, for example, oversee funding or give recognition, as well as influencing public policy.

To promote transparency and enhance credibility, potential conflicts of interests must be disclosed in writing to appropriate authorities, so that a considered decision can be made on a case-by-case basis. Some additional information is available also in the section below dealing with resources.

E. Guidelines for academic conduct are provided below to guard against negligence as well as deliberate dishonesty:

- (a) Use proper methodology for experiments and computational work. Accurately describe and compile data.
- (b) Carefully record and save primary and secondary data such as original pictures, instrument data readouts, laboratory notebooks, and computer folders. There should be minimal digital manipulation of images/photos; the original version should be saved for later scrutiny, if required, and the changes made should be clearly described.
- (c) Ensure robust reproducibility and statistical analysis of experiments and simulations. It is important to be truthful about the data and not to omit some data points to make an impressive figure (commonly known as "cherry picking").

S. B. Patil
PRINCIPAL
S.B. Patil Institute for
Dental Science & Research
NAUBAD, BIDAR-585402
(Karnataka)

(d) Write clearly in your own words. It is necessary to resist the temptation to “copy and paste” from the internet or other sources for class assignments, manuscripts and thesis.

(f) Give due credit to previous reports, methods, computer programs, etc. with appropriate citations. Material taken from your own published work should also be cited; as mentioned above, it will be considered self-plagiarism otherwise.

F. Individual and Collective Responsibility: The responsibility varies with the role one plays.

a) Student roles: Before submitting a thesis to the department, the student is responsible for checking the thesis for plagiarism using software that is available on the web (see resources below). In addition, the student should undertake that he/she is aware of the academic guidelines of the Institution, has checked the document for plagiarism, and that the thesis is original work. A web-check does not necessarily rule out plagiarism. If a student observes or becomes aware of any violations of the academic integrity policy, he/she is strongly encouraged to report the misconduct in a timely manner.

b) Faculty roles: Faculty members should ensure that proper methods are followed for experiments, computations and theoretical developments, and that data are properly recorded and saved for future reference. In addition, they should review manuscripts and theses carefully. Faculty members are also responsible for ensuring personal compliance with the above broad issues relating to academic integrity. Faculty members are expected to inform students of the Institution’s academic integrity policy within their specific courses, to ensure minimal academic dishonesty, and to respond appropriately and timely to violations of academic integrity.

c) Institutional roles: A breach of academic integrity is a serious offence with long lasting consequences for both the individual and the Institution, and this can lead to various sanctions. In the case of a student the first violation of academic breach will lead to a warning. A repeat offence, if deemed sufficiently serious, could lead to expulsion. It is recommended that faculty may report any academic violations to the department head. Upon receipt of reports of scientific misconduct, the head of the

S.B. Patil Institute for
Dental Science & Research

(Karnataka)

institution may appoint a committee to investigate the matter and suggest appropriate measures on case-to-case basis.

7 ANTIRAGGING

The Institution has a coherent and an effective anti-ragging policy in place which is based on the 'UGC Regulation on Curbing the Menace of Ragging in Higher Educational Institutions, 2009 [hereinafter referred to as the 'UGC Regulations']'. The UGC Regulations have been framed in view of the directions issued by the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India to prevent and prohibit ragging in all Indian Educational Institutions and Colleges. 7.3.1 Portray the performance of the Institution in one area distinctive to its priority and thrust

within 500 words

Response:

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH PROGRAM

'Undergraduate research program'

represents an area of institutional distinctiveness.

Background:

A systematic and sustainable research program was introduced for the undergraduate (UG) students from the Department of Public Health Dentistry for the last 15 years. The program had got greater momentum in 2011 as evident by quality paper presentations, publications, research grants and awards by undergraduates.

As there is "No research without action and no action without research", every research undertaken reaches its logical conclusion.

The faculty team is strongly oriented and well trained towards "Health Professional Education Research" and "Health Promotion research". In the last 5 years, there were 15 research projects on various aspects of curriculum. The research projects of primary benefit to the institution and the student community are undertaken.

The students are encouraged to develop innovative oral health promotional material. Also, innovative edutainment modules such as board games, 3-D books, card games, magnetic games and so on have been developed to train children on oral health.

Structure of the UG research Program:

The final BDS students apply for the research program, establish objectives, end goals and mention their choice of the mentor. The students are assessed for their research aptitude. Following a mutual discussion between students and the faculty, the students are then allocated to the 3 faculty research guides in the department.

Each staff, depending on their area of expertise, interest and need of the institution / student, zeroes in on the research topic. The faculty members work towards establishing camaraderie, a sense of ownership and belongingness in the team. The students are then gently led through the research process incorporating the principles of adult learning at every stage.

The research project is undertaken for seven to nine months. The students are hand held through the experiential learning process. The emphasis is laid on understanding the concepts of research, documentation, timeliness and quality of work.

Quality assurance process:

Three presentations are made during the course of the project:

- 1.To the Institutional Review Board
- 2.In Public defence of synopsis
- 3.In Public defence of completed research project

These measures ensure that the students understand the weightage and relevance of the project and are motivated to give in their best as a team for the project to be successful.

Measured outcomes of the research program:

The research program has motivated the students and has improved their aptitude towards practicing evidence-based dentistry.

Success of the program is evident as:

- Two research projects were selected for RGUHS grants, 2020-21 and research projects where completed within stipulated time .
